

Dawn of Pomerania – a new permanent exhibition at the National Museum in Szczecin – presents almost 14 millennia of cultural history in the Pomeranian lands, covering the times from the end of the ice age to the first decades of existence of the Duchy of Pomerania. At the exhibition you can see over 1000 artefacts from the rich archaeological collections gathered in Szczecin since the 1st half of the 19th century.