

CONTENTS

Editors' Introduction	7
---------------------------------	---

ON-LINE/ OFF-LINE

Ewa Szczęsna: Literate Existence in the Digital Space. Contemporary Traces of Identity . .	19
Marta Rakoczy: Text, Writing, School in Anthropological Perspective	35
Lidia Gąsowska: The Practice of Writing Fan Fiction: A Fan Fiction Writer's Tutorial . . .	49
Agnieszka Oberc: I Write. You Write. They Write. The Literary Works of Fandom as a Factor in Integrating the Community	63
Karolina Sidowska: Approaches Towards Shame in Contemporary Polish Literature	75
Bartosz Kałużny: People You May Know: Homosexual Men's Identity in the Time of Social Networking Services	89
Dobrawa Lisak-Gębała: Contemporary Polish Essays: In Search of the Aura of Paintings and Photographs	115
Irena Chawrilka: The Hybrid Work of Art as Experience	133
Agnieszka Karpowicz: Reincarnations of the Word: Media, Genres, Practices	151

LITERATURE AND CONVERGENCE

Ewa Szczęsna: Poetics in the Age of Convergence	169
Maciej Maryl: Convergence and Communication: Genre Analysis of the websites of Polish Writers	189
Katarzyna Sitkowska: Towards a Generic Analysis of the Microblog (Based on a Study of Twitter)	209
Irena Chawrilka: How Does the Hybrid Work of Art Exist?	237
Irena Górska: Literature in Relation to the Reconfiguration of Aisthesis	255
Magdalena Lachman: Literature in/of the City – Introductory Comments	271

Contents

Natalia Lemann: Literary Studies, History and Popular Culture – the Spaces of Convergence. Introduction	293
Katarzyna Gutkowska-Ociepa: Afterpop: the Almost Perfect Convergence	321
Beata Śniecikowska: Transcultural Convergence? Polish Poets and Artists and the Oriental Verbo-visibility	339
Bogusława Bodzioch-Bryła: From an E-narrative Poem towards an Interactive Work of Art. Media Convergence Illustrated with DOWN by Zenon Fajfer and The Surprising Spiral by Ken Feingold	371
Bibliographical notes	401